Superior filtration and ease of installation combine to make this fridge filter very popular in our product line.

Granulated Carbon found in the Aquakleen Premium Inline Fridge Filter cartridge has long been utilized to reduce impurities in potable water. It is widely recognized for its adsorption capacity plus its ability to reduce dissolved organics and chemicals such as chlorine. These and other impurities can cause undesirable taste, odour and colour in water.

The success of the Aquakleen Premium Inline Fridge Filter is directly attributable to the innovative fitting that is incorporated into the design. These fittings are unique in two ways. First, they allow for the installation of the inline filter in a matter of seconds. Inlet and outlet tubes are simply snapped into place and secured using a patented collet system. Secondly, the fittings are moulded directly into the filter body and cap as a single unit. This reduces the chance for weeping or seepage. Cap and body are spin-welded together producing a smooth, consistent seal without the use of glues or binders that can cause contamination. The result of these design and production techniques is a reliable filter that is fast and easy to install.

The Aquakleen Premium Inline Fridge Filter is available in a 250mm length manufactured in 50mm or 62.5mm diameters. The 50mm has an average life of 6 months and the 62.5mm has an average life of 12 months.
